IDEAL CONSTRUCTION

La lavorazione “Ideal” si distingue per una cucitura visibile che unisce la tomaia ripiegata verso l’esterno direttamente alla suola.

Questa tecnica, nota per la sua robustezza e flessibilità, garantisce un elevato livello di comfort e permette una buona adattabilità del piede durante la camminata.

Le varianti di questa costruzione mantengono le stesse proprietà strutturali, con possibilità di declinazioni stilistiche che la rendono adatta anche a calzature dal design contemporaneo.

The Ideal construction is characterized by a visible stitch that connects the upper, folded outward, directly to the sole.

This technique, known for its durability and flexibility, ensures a high level of comfort and allows for good foot adaptability during walking.

Variants of this construction retain the same structural properties, with stylistic adaptations that make it suitable even for contemporary footwear design.

La construcción Ideal se caracteriza por una costura visible que une la empeine, doblada hacia afuera, directamente a la suela.

Esta técnica, reconocida por su resistencia y flexibilidad, garantiza un alto nivel de comodidad y permite una buena adaptación del pie durante la marcha.

Las variantes de esta construcción mantienen las mismas propiedades estructurales, con posibilidades de variaciones estilísticas que la hacen adecuada incluso para diseños de calzado contemporáneo.
